My little sister and I together went to movie theater to watch movie called "Happy Feet". I really didn't wanted to watch movie that shows whole bunch of penguins singing and dancing around. My sister didn't wanted to watch movie alone. Employees in movie theater didn't let kid to watch movie alone, so I had to watch movie. I'm stock in theater for about 1 hour 30 minutes with my evil sister. I felt desperate that I was watching kid's movie. My sister started to get all excited. I had to keep track to time, thing "when does movie end?". I started lose my patient and started arouse my anger, until the movie ended.

My little sister and I together went to movie theater to watch movie called "Happy Feet". At first, I really didn't wanted to watch movie that shows whole bunch of penguins singing and dancing around, but my sister didn't wanted to watch movie alone, and employees in movie theater didn't let kid to watch movie alone, so I had to watch movie. Now, I'm stock in theater for about 1 hour 30 minutes with my evil sister. Once the movie started to begin, I felt desperate that I was watching kid's movie. Meanwhile, my sister started to get all excited. While I was watching movie, I had to keep track to time, think "when does movie end?". Every time, when penguins stated to dance and sing, I started lose my patient and started arouse my anger. Finally the movie ended!
